DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mack, II et al. (6,510,325).

Regarding claims 1, and 10, Mack discloses a convertible portable telephone comprising detecting at a server on a publicly accessible communication network that a mobile device communicating with the server may have been stolen, and making a telephone call to a call center to initiate action in response to detecting that the mobile device may have been stolen (see fig.6, element 30, and its description).

Regarding claims 2, 8, and 11, Mack further discloses the publicly accessible communication network comprises the Internet (see col.2, line 52-col.3, line 16).

Regarding claims 3-7, and 9 Mack further discloses detecting comprises analyzing a message sent from the mobile device to the server, the message containing information identifying the mobile device (see col.4, line 65-col.5, line 20).
